DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The term 'room temperature' is indefinite. Perhaps 'room temperature or at' should be deleted.

Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The term 'strong' as used in 'strong acid' is indefinite.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Shibuta (USPN 5,853,877).

Shibuta discloses the treatment of carbon fibrils, or multi-walled carbon nanotubes, with a particular solution comprising a strong acid containing sulfur in addition to an oxidizing agent (column 4, lines 29-35). The strong acid is preferably sulfuric acid and the oxidizing agent is preferably one having acidity in the strong acid, such as nitric acid, chromic acid, or hydrogen peroxide (column 4, line 66 – column 5, line 6). It is possible to treat the nanotubes at a temperature from room temperature to the boiling point of the acidic mixture (column 5, lines 17-18).

In treating the nanotubes as such, the surface of the nanotubes is modified by oxidation to form a polar functional group such as a carbonyl, carboxyl, nitro, etc. (column 5, lines 28-40 and Table 1). While it is not explicitly stated that only the outer wall of the nanotube is oxidized, it is equivalently stated that the surface of the nanotube is modified. Alternatively, because the treatment is performed identically to that of the applicant, it is deemed that only the outer wall of the nanotube is oxidized, especially since the acid and oxidizing agent contact the outer wall of the nanotube.

Shibuta also teaches that after the treatment, the nanotubes may be filtered, washed, and dispersed in solution, or isolated. This solution may then be used as a coating composition for the formation of an electrically conductive film by coating on a substrate (column 5, lines 41-53 and Examples 1, 4).
